

Pledging Continuous Support of the ADA After 25 years: 2015 National ADA Symposium

Pledging support to the ADA after 25 years.

The 2015 NATIONAL ADA SYMPOSIUM advocates the Americans with Disabilities Act. The Symposium was hosted by the Great Plains ADA Center of the Department of Architectural Studies and was a sold-out success with 850 participants in Atlanta, Georgia. Celebrating the 25th anniversary of the ADA as Civil Rights legislation, the Symposium was held in Atlanta, Georgia. Participants toured the Center for Civil and Human Rights during the May 10 to 13 conference.

Each year, professional development presentations, workshops, assistive technology exhibits, and discussion forums are designed for:

- ADA Coordinators
- Advocates
- Architects
- Business Community
- Code Officials
- Educators
- Government Officials
- Human Resource Specialists
- Individuals with Disabilities
- Family members
- Service Providers

View Photo Album of the Symposium capturing the enthusiasm.

Mark your calendar for the 2016 National ADA Symposium, June 19-22 in Denver, Colorado.

Follow the work of the Great Plains ADA Center!

Jim Bostram, Department of Justice, presents “DOJ Perspective on Design”

ADA Legacy Project T-Shirts: Disability Rights are Civil Rights

Witnesses at the original ADA signing ceremony, July 26, 1990.