

Marcia Wehrle Healy & Robert N. Healy

Interior Design & Architecture Lecture Series

Jon Otis

Intimate Space: Defining Public & Private Intimacy

lecture
open to the public

Wednesday
September 17, 2014
220 Gwynn Hall
3:00pm

Jon Otis

Jon Otis is a tenured Professor at Pratt Institute, and earned his BA from Moravian College, and MS Design from the University of Massachusetts. Professor Otis' credentials include having been awarded Fulbright and Lusk Fellowships to Italy where he spent three years working with Studio De Pas, D'Urbino, Lomazzi and Ettore Sottsass. He was honored by being named a 2009 Design Intelligence Most Admired Educator. He is presently developing an interdisciplinary MFA program in Interpretive Planning + Design at Pratt.

Professor Otis is also active in organizations such as the AAM, IDEC, IIDA, IDSA, AIGA and has lectured at American universities and industry conferences including Neocon as well as abroad at IIDEX in Canada, in Singapore, Finland and at the Vitra Design Workshops in Boisbuchet France.

Otis is the Founder and Principal of OIA - Object Agency, a multidisciplinary design studio and design strategy agency, whose work ranges from interior architecture and design, exhibition design, branding & visual communications, product design, web/media design, and strategic consulting.

University of Missouri

Department of Architectural Studies

arch.missouri.edu