

ArchSt2620 People, Places and Design

Online, Behavior Science General Education

Understanding human behavior and interaction with environments; the influence of architectural design on built places. Practical application for design. 3 credits.

- View scenic movie trailers
- Analyze how people respond to places
- Apply concepts to architecture & interiors

We will consider the historical context of human habitation, scientific research on the interaction between environments and human behaviors, as well as individual differences related to age, gender, and cultural background.

The amazing NYC Rockefeller Center's Roof Top Garden is the cover image of our text .